

Writing Project

Write as a Reader

Write Literary Response

Think about a story. What was the problem and solution? What did you like about it? Write a response for a partner.

Give the title of the story. Underline the title in your response.

Tell about the solution to the problem.

Describe the problem.

Tell what you liked about the story.

Little Red Riding Hood

by Aziza Noor

I read Little Red Riding Hood. Little Red Riding Hood had to save Grandma from the wolf.

Little Red Riding Hood ran to get the farmer. The helpful farmer scared the wolf away.

They all lived happily ever after. I think this happy ending makes Little Red Riding Hood a good story.

1 Plan and Write

Talk with a partner about stories you have read. Pick one story you like. Talk about how the author tells the story. Tell your partner the story's problem and solution. Write the problem and solution. Then write what makes the story good.

Language Frames

- The problem was _____.
- The solution was _____.

2 Check Your Work

Revise and edit your writing. Use this checklist.

Checklist

- ☒ Does the story you reviewed have a strong ending?
- ☒ Can you add any prefixes or suffixes?
- ☒ Check your sentences. Did you use prepositions correctly?
- ☒ Check for different ways to spell sounds you know. Circle words to check. Correct spelling errors.

3 Finish and Share

Finish your response. Write each sentence neatly. Begin a new paragraph when you change ideas.

Read your response clearly. Listen carefully to your partner. Then ask questions. Share what you know.

Why was the ending your favorite part of "Little Red Riding Hood"?
