

Just One Seed

Big Book

The seed is a gift.

“I will grow it,” says Thomas.

“That seed might grow,” says Dad.

“It might be a tomato,” says Thomas.

“That leaf might grow,” says Brother.

“It might be a carrot,” says Thomas.

He waits and waits.

“My plant has no flowers. Little bird, little bird, can you help?”

“Wait and see,” says the bird.

The bird helps and helps.

The plant grows and grows.

A sunflower!

And that's not all.
